Dear Amarjeet Singh Sir

On behalf of Delhi Government, I greatly appreciate that BSES Yamuna Power Limited has come forward today as a responsible Corporate entity to augment Delhi Government hospitals and institutions with a donation of 108 emergency and recovery trolley stretchers and 150 wheelchairs funded through its Corporate Social Responsibility funds.

This initiative as part of the Covid 19 Relief assistance by your company is a timely contribution and I am sure will inspire other corporates to also come forward and bolster the government's efforts to jointly combat the epidemic and improve healthcare facilities for the general public.

Sincerely,

Renovated creche welcomes kids at Mandoli Jail

FTI ■ NEW DELHI

Wearing fresh uniforms, young kids looked about excitedly at their newly renovated creche at the Mandoli women's prison here when it reopened after a long hiatus imposed due to Covid-19.

Disappointed by their mothers at 9 am, the little ones eagerly to meet their friends and teacher after a long time and they are as enthusiastic about playing with new toys at the creche-cum-playschool which was set up in prison was established.

Officials at Mandoli 16 said that as cases came down and iron bars removed in side world, the priorities also decided to a creche again for children.

They said that all were suspended in the earlier due to the past and even NGOs and organisations were not access. This impact youngsters as they attend their classes, the said.

When PTI visited the play school, the kids danced with their friends in a music system blared out their favourite songs and animatedly introduced themselves to the correspondent. They pointed children living in this jail, along with their mothers who are inmates here. The creche provides them a learning and play system.

The officials said this was part of the new renovation carried out by the BYPL, which also provided 10 cots and new toys for all the 10 children who are part of it.

training children in language right from the beginning, they said. They spend the day learning new things using play tools. From plays to rhymes and poems to alphabets in Hindi and English, they are trained by inmates who work in shifts. They also have a number of colouring books and slides. The creche closes at 4 pm. Students are provided five pairs of uniform for each day of their classes from Monday to Friday. The officials said, adding that their uniforms are washed on a daily basis to maintain hygiene. Children are provided with nutritious diet which is strict and includes a along with vegetables. Children two years do not take care 24x7 at that jail. Mandoli had no al said they were pleasant memories like any owned their walls. He this through through the creche being run by jail staff, aided by NGOs and CSR projects of companies. All efforts become worthwhile when you see these little faces smiling," she told PTI.

Talika Kiran, from India Vision Management, takes classes for children at alternate days at Mandoli and at Tihar prison on the remaining days. She was also in BBC's list of 100 inspirational and influential women of 2017. The inmates who teach the children have been trained by 'mobile creches' of the NGO. They have taught the children about coronavirus and the measures required to safeguard themselves. "Corona is bad. We have to keep ourselves safe from the infection and always wash our hands. We also have to maintain distance from each other," charm the students seriously.

One of the inmates taking classes is a BA graduate who has worked as a teacher at a play school before. She is in jail along with her family since 2013 in connection with a case of murder. She is assisted at the creche by an inmate who is a Nigerian national and was arrested under the NDPS Act after landing at the airport in India. The first inmate says teaching is her passion and it motivated her to teach at the creche here.
