BYPL empowering tomorrow's innovators today

Empowering the next generation of female STEM leaders, BSES Yamuna Power Limited (BYPL) unveiled a Mini Science Centre (MSC) at Sarvodaya Kanya Vidyalaya in Ghazipur. This initiative, benefiting 3,500 girl students, transcends traditional learning.

MSCs are designed to shift focus from rote learning to fostering long-lasting understanding. This holistic approach ensures students don't just memorize but utilize knowledge, unlocking boundless future possibilities. At the launch recently, the air was electric with excitement. Girl students confidently discussed STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths) concepts.

A standout moment was the Do-It-Yourself (DIY) model making Competition, where students show cased rocket launchers, intertwining their creations with underlying science principles. With 30 MSCs across Delhi, BYPL's commitment shines brightly: kindling the scientific flame in schools and championing emerging engineers from diverse backgrounds.
